A touch of near alchemy is coming to Trevor Towner Goldsmith's in June, forming part of the silver jubilee celebrations for his twenty-five years of trading in Petersfield. Between June 10th and 21st in his High Street Showrooms in Petersfield, Hampshire organised by Gordon Hamme, the first British Silver week will be celebrating the lustrous renaissance in contemporary UK Silversmithing. Throughout the entire UK a mere 23 showrooms and venues will be supporting and exhibiting the work of these artisans in this unique manner.

Trevor will be exhibiting five individual artisans alongside his own silver collections, selected throughout the UK, the collections on display in the Trevor Towner Showrooms will be available for not only viewing, but more excitingly, purchasing.

Trevor and Jill Towner have chosen a selection of artisans that will cater for and celebrate the devotees of exemplary design and craftsmanship, presenting opportunities to spot new and emerging talents as well as meeting some of the country's most celebrated designer/ makers.

Leading silversmiths chosen to exhibit on the Trevor Towner Showrooms are, Seamus Gill from Dublin; Martyn Pugh from Worcestershire; Susan Beale from Kent; Olivia Lowe from Surrey and Selina Campbell from Cheshire.

The Celebration for British Silversmiths' will be on display in the Trevor Towner Showrooms between Tuesday June 10th and Saturday June 21st inclusive during standard opening times.

Seamus Gill has worked with Debra Augado in New York and Ann Barrows in Toronto. Seamus now has his own studio in an artisans set up in The Tower, Dublin where he has been since 1992.

Martyn Pugh has won numerous awards and has been exhibited globally and at the seat of Government at Number 10 Downing Street. Martyn's work is rooted in the purity of natural form and the geometry of engineering and architecture, the ultimate goal being to achieve the perfect equilibrium between form and function.

Susan Beale is known for her crafting of vessels and jewellery; she has been commended for her Silversmithing from The Goldsmiths' Craft & Design Council Craftsmanship & Design Awards.

Olivia Lowe's work explores the relationship between natural objects such as flowers or fruit, and the contrasting qualities of silver bringing the two together to create a single display piece, where both elements are of equal visual importance.

Selina Campbell is a recent graduate with a first class honours degree from Stafford University. She was awarded the prestigious Goldsmith's Company Precious Metal Bursary, awarded to only 45 students in their final year of studies. Selina has subsequently set up a studio with other celebrated artisans in Stockport enabling her to establish a retail basis for her work. [COPY END]
